FSMB Interstate Medical Licensure Compact

In 2013, AADB’s medical counterpart, the Federation of State Medical Boards, convened representatives of state medical boards and other experts to study the practical implications of a medical licensing compact. Such an agreement could be used to help facilitate multi-state practice and enable telemedicine, while ensuring that state boards would retain their individual authority for discipline and oversight within the system.

The seventh state adopting the Compact triggers the formation of the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact Commission to oversee the implementation.

The Interstate Medical Licensure Compact model legislation creates a streamlined process for medical licensure for physicians interested in practicing medicine in multiple states. Since the completion of the Compact’s drafting process last year, nearly 20 states have formally introduced the legislation in their legislative chambers. Alabama joins Idaho, Montana, South Dakota, Utah, West Virginia, and Wyoming as states that have formally enacted the Compact.

AADB Invited to Licensure Task Force

This summer AADB has been invited to join the American Dental Association, the American Student Dental Association, American Dental Education Association and the Testing Agencies in discussion of Licensure Portability. This task force was formed following a meeting in March with ADA, ASDA, National Dental Examining Board of Canada, AADB and others to begin a conversation on licensure portability. Dr. Mina Paul, AADB President, presented at the initial meeting the challenges faced with change to licensure considering the 53 jurisdictions and practice acts.
Composite Information Requested

The Composite serves as the premier source of information on the structure and activities of dental regulatory boards in America. It is imperative that dental boards provide the requested data to make the Composite as accurate and helpful as possible. The information is used by dental schools, dental students, dental associations and boards as well as researchers. The data categories have been reviewed and edited by the American Association of Dental Administrators to gather information to maintain relevance in the licensure and regulatory community.

Requests for information were sent to the dental administrators in June with publication anticipated in January 2016.
ASP - The Assessment Services Program continues to grow. Launched in early 2013 the two initial phases of Expert Review Assessment and D-PREP are approaching a doubling of activity year to year. The newest addition, Remediation Services, will be available to serve those individuals who complete the D-PREP phase of the Program and may be used by the dental boards when they have identified specific issues which require remediation but may not require the in-depth evaluation conducted through the D-PREP program. The ERA program use is increasing as more dental boards’ desire an independent opinion of particular cases to aid in decisions. When submitting an ERA case the board is asked to identify the specific issues in question and indicate preferred expertise thought to be helpful, e.g., general dentist, specialist or other expertise or experience. The number of cases is listed below with several pending.
